

CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS ECLECTICS FESTIVAL 2019

ANDTheatre Company is accepting submissions for our eleventh annual Eclectic Evening of Shorts performing in February, 2019. We will accept a maximum of 8 short plays (20-30 minutes long) which will be performed as two separate evenings, Boxers & Briefs, running February 21st - March 3rd. Each evening will perform over the course of one weekend, for a total of four performances per show.

We are looking for short (20-30 minutes) complete pieces, premieres encouraged. Pieces can be in the form of a play, sketch, clown, musical or other eclectic form. (No solo pieces. We have a solo program in the fall.) Only one application per person. Preference is given to work developed through our programs, specifically our open lab, Anything Goes.

Accepted material will be presented staged, off book, with simple lights, simple sound and simple sets. Projects with small casts and low technical needs are strongly encouraged. The venue at Shetler Studios Theatre 54 is a 60 seat black box, and there is minimal storage. There is a piano available. This will be an Equity Showcase, and each actor/playwright/director will receive a small stipend.

Artistic New Directions will provide the performance venue, technical and production support, and marketing for the Eclectic Evening. We cannot provide rehearsal space.

The originator of an accepted piece is responsible for delivering the finished piece, of overseeing his/her/their own show, including rehearsals, performers and director and with minimal technical elements. Again, think Fringe Festival. Be advised, if you live outside the NY area, Artistic New Directions will not be able to put your show together for you. That is the responsibility of the originator of the piece, as stated above. Proof of rights will be needed. Artistic New Directions will facilitate wherever possible.
